- As part of a team from the Department of History, UoH, I went on an archaeological expedition to the Gundala forests of Khammam district, in Feb 2012. We discovered 3 megalithic sites and identified antiquity. It was a national achievement and was reported in major national newspapers.
- Letters written by me have appeared in magazines and have been appreciated.

Personal Attributes

- I believe only in things that are logical, rational and practical.
- I have a composed nature with a stable thought process.
- I have a strong will power and welcome each challenge as an opportunity to prove my abilities.
- An organization attains success when its people whole-heartedly discharge their duties to achieve a common goal. I value team work.
- I believe that only our abilities and hard-work help us achieve goals.

Hobbies and Passion

- Books are my passion. I read Politics, History and Fiction.
- I aspire to write.
- Translation and writing are my new passion. It's a self-rewarding work, in itself, to look into dictionaries and find a right word and to be able to write a sentence with the appropriate expression. Researching, finding the right resource/ reference, using it correctly is an enjoyment.
